

晩飯なに？

Step1. Listen carefully and write the answers.

| Name | dinner |
|-----------|--------|
| Super-Man | |
| Haruki | |
| Azie | |

Step2. Listen carefully and make a circle.

(1). (What / Where) do you (have / eat) for dinner?

I usually (have / eat) tempura for dinner.

(2). (What / When) do you (have / come) for dinner?

I usually (come / have) ramen for dinner.

Step3. Grammar Point

Do you have tempura for dinner? 意味：()

() do you have for dinner? 意味：()

Do you~?は何を食べるかハッキリしている！

何を食べるかわからないときに、文の頭に()をつけること

で「何を食べるの？」になります。

他にも！朝ご飯や昼食は、最後の部分に、breakfast もしくは lunch

といれよう！

Ex) What do you have for breakfast?

What do you have for lunch?

Step4. Let's find your dinner!!!!

〈Model Dialog〉

A: Hi! (B)! How are you?

B: Hello! (A)! I'm hungry. How about you?

A: I'm hungry, too. Anyway, what do you have for dinner?

B: I have (your dinner).

～同じメニューの場合～

A: (Reaction). It is one of my dinner menus!

B: (Reaction).

A: Have a nice dinner!

B: You, too.

～違った場合～

A: (Reaction). It is not one of my dinner menus, but your dinner is good!

B: (Reaction). Thank you! Have a nice dinner!

A: You, too.

〈Reaction〉

That's good! / Oh! / Really?

〈Dinner Menu〉

Menu 1: Rice, Miso Soup, and Natto

Menu 2: Hamburger, French fries, and Shaca-Chiki

Menu 3: Ramen, fried rice, and Maze-Soba

Menu 4: Curry and rice, tempura, and Ton-Soup(Yaba-Ton)

Menu 5: Beef Steak, Grape juice, and Salad

Menu 6: Sandwich, hotdog, and Cola

